- Excellent social skills
- Always gets the job done
- Dependable
- Always excited and willing to help customers.

As a college graduate I have learned what it takes to tackle challenging situations and to persevere through the hard times. I have always been a diligent worker and have never missed a deadline. My past consists of acting and singing for various bands throughout the years. My social personality and openness to speak to complete strangers has led to the popularity of a number of bands I have played with while also teaching me to work through disagreements among others I may be trapped with while in a van. With all my experience I believe I would be a great addition to your work force with my positive attitude, social personality and willingness to get the work done while working on a team.
